Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bianchi, who have been visiting in the city for the past few days, returned to-day to their home at Milford, N. H.

Mrs. Fred Farrand and children of Elm street went this morning to Burlington, where they will join Mr. Farrand, who is employed there as a painter.

Fred Beal, president of the Vermont branch of the American Federation of Labor, returned to his home in Bethel yesterday, after passing a few days in the city.

Mrs. Ida Dunmore, who has been visiting her sister in South Barre for the past two weeks, was a visitor in the city this morning while on her way to her home in Danville, Mass.

The bowling academy owned by the Merlo Bros. on North Main street is undergoing extensive alterations and will probably be opened to the public on Saturday of this week.

John A. Cleary returned to-day from his home in Manchester, N. H., and will remain in Barre until the series of championship games between the Italian A. C. and Orleans is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Campbell and son, Lawrence, of North Main street returned yesterday from Old Orchard, Me., where they have been spending several days with Charles H. Campbell at the hotel Vesper.

Fred Caron, a former resident of Barre, arrived in the city this morning from Providence, R. I. Mr. Caron will pass several days with his brother, C. A. Caron, by whom he was formerly employed in the City bakery.

The Altruists will hold their regular meeting with Mrs. May Philbrick at 2 Orange street Friday afternoon at 2:30. As this is the first meeting of the year let there be a large attendance. Per order secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Ford, who accompanied the remains of their daughter to Northfield for burial last week, left this morning for their home in North Andover, Mass., after having been the guest for a few days of Alderman F. W. Bancroft and Mrs. Bancroft of Franklin street.

G. Monti left Monday for New York, where he will visit for a week with friends. He will then sail on an Italian liner for Genoa, Italy. Mr. Monti, who has made his home in Barre for years, will reside permanently at Torino, Italy.

For some time past he has been in poor health and is confident that a change of climate will be beneficial to him.

Willis G. Scott of Brandon, who has been passing a few days in Barre, where he was employed as a barber for many years, left this morning for his home. At Montpelier Mr. Scott planned to stop off and attend the state Republican convention. Mr. Scott has been an active worker in behalf of his brother, Walter F. Scott, a candidate for state treasurer.

James Sullivan, who has been passing the summer in the city, returned last night to his home at Dorchester, Mass. During the summer Sullivan has been representing the Barre A. C. baseball team. Previous to coming to Barre he played for several years with the Dorchester, Mass., high school team. He contemplates entering Georgetown university this fall.

A special train over the Barre branch of the Central Vermont railroad carried 50 people from this city to the Dog River Valley fair at Northfield this morning at 7:40 o'clock. Some 25 passengers en-trained at 8 o'clock for the fair grounds and others planned to leave on the special train which left the city at 12:10 o'clock this afternoon. Cold weather did not prevent a good many autoists from making the trip to the fair.

The Bethany girls of the First Baptist church met at the home of Margaret Jane Geake of 7 Beckley Court last evening at 7:30 o'clock for their monthly business meeting. An instrumental solo was given by Margaret Geake, a vocal solo by Ruby Lewis, and a song in chorus by the girls, as well as games. Then the meeting was given over to the business part. Dainty refreshments were served after which all adjourned, having spent a pleasant evening.

One of the last three band concerts to be given by the Barre Citizens' band this season attracted a fair-sized gathering of people to city park last evening. The concert was postponed from Monday night and perhaps because it had not been thoroughly advertised and maybe because of the wintry flavor in the weather, the audience was scarcely as large as usual. The music was of prime quality, however, and there was plenty of applause. Two more concerts will be given in the open air before the season ends.

Mrs. Hannah Lowe of 12 Foster street figured in an accident yesterday which might have been more serious had she not been prompt in smothering a gasoline fire which threatened to burn her face and consume her hair. As a result of the accident, both of her hands are painfully burned and she is unable to use them. Mrs. Lowe had been engaged in filling a gasoline tank attached to a stove in the kitchen. In so doing, she must have sprinkled drops of the fluid over her apron, for when she started to light the fire a few moments later, the apron took fire and presently it seemed as though all of her clothing must be enveloped.

Her hair took fire and it was when she lifted the apron over her head that her hands were burned. Neighbors hearing Mrs. Lowe's screams came to her assistance and Dr. O. G. Sweeney was called. The woman was in considerable pain, but the physician was unable to discover where the fire had come in contact with the flesh except on the hands and wrists. Parts of Mrs. Lowe's clothing were burned and her hair was slightly singed.
